Foreign Intelligence.

HAGUE, September 21.

In the sitting of yesterday (Friday) a letter was read from the executive directory, of the same day, inclosing three letters received the day before, from the secretary of the general in chief, to the French minister Guyot, containing further accounts of the last battle, which agree in the chief points with what was mentioned in our last, under Haarlem, except that they still further mention that lieut. Gen. Dumonceau had received a severe bruise on his breast, by a ball, which had lost most of its force before it struck him; that the Russian general Essen was sorely wounded; that the Batavian divisions outdid one another in courage and bravery; and that the national guards had also taken part in the action, along with which the Rotterdam and Delft volunteers had wonderfully distinguished themselves. It is further added, that the general in chief Herman, of the Russian troops with two of his aid-de camps, was made prisoners; that the left wing had retaken all the posts from whence it had been driven.

After the reading of said papers, the president made a suitable speech, extolling the glorious advantages obtained over the enemy, to the honor of the brave men who had distinguished themselves on that memorable day for their heroism and good conduct.

Afterwards was read a letter from the executive directory, inclosing an extract from the minister of war, received from major general von Boecop, at head quarters, September 19th, of the following tenor:—

Citizen Minister,

I had the honor to mention to you this morning about 10 o'clock, that the enemy had attacked our whole line; and this evening at 7 o'clock, I am able to give you a further account of what has taken place, though not very circumstantial, as I have received no official account—At break of day the enemy attacked and turned the left wing (the French troops) along the Downs before Petten, whereby the French troops were obliged to retreat over Schoorl to Bergen, where the 42d half brigade charged the enemy with the bayonet, who were all Russians, and drove them back, and cut off their retreat to Petten, having driven them into the Downs, and slain a great number of them, and made many prisoners by what I have seen, their number must amount to 800, among which were several officers, with the Russian general Herman their commander; several cannon and two stand of colors have been taken, and the troops, as I understand, have gained their former position, and are even further advanced. At the same time that the left wing was attacked, the division commanded by lieutenant general Dumonceau was also, and he was obliged to abandon the post of Schoorldam, but retook it, and is again in his former position in good order. As I have learned, the right wing, the division of lieutenant general Daendals, held its position until the afternoon, after having beaten off several attacks but about 2 o'clock general Daendals was again attacked in front on Old Karpsel by the English, and in the flank by 2000 Russians, and with all the endeavors of adjutant general Durutte, he could not keep the troops on the banks of their intrenchments, which occasioned a retreat and obliged lieutenant general Daendals to abandon his post at Old Karpsel; and the retreat would have been effected in good order, had not an ammunition waggon, in the camp of St. Poncras, blown up and occasioned confusion.

According to the reports of the prisoners, the day before yesterday, and yesterday evening the Russians landed to the number of 17000, and the English were believed to amount to the number of 20,000, commanded by the duke of York.

I cannot ascertain the loss of the enemy; it may nevertheless, without exaggeration, be estimated at 3 or 4000 men.

I cannot ascertain our loss, but I can say we have not received many wounded in the hospitals.

Directly as we receive the returns, I shall have the honor of transmitting you our loss.

Finally, there was read another letter from the executive directory, inclosing a copy from the adjutant-general d'Ardenne, from head quarters at Alkmaar, September 19, to the minister at war, to the following purport:—

Citizen Minister,

The enemy attacked us this morning along our whole line; a column of 6000 Russian troops, attacked the van guard of the French division, under general Van Damme; this column of the enemy, under the command of general Herman, drove our troops into Bergen, where the whole division had orders to unite. General Van Damme gave orders to adjutant-general Rostollant to take command of the left wing towards the side of the Downs, and general Gouvion the right wing, and general Simon the cavalry, and took the command of the centre himself. He attacked the Russians in Bergen with the bayonet, and took the village from them, killed six hundred, and took as many prisoners, with all their cannon.

The general in chief had a mind during a few days to have a bridge made over the passage of Zyp, in order to have a free communication with the division of the centre, under the command of lieutenant general Dumonceau; he stationed two battalions of Batavian troops, some horse artillery and hussars along the same, to reinforce the troops under general Van Damme; to double the number, the attack was increased and the enemy was overthrown.

The event of this ever memorable day, as far as is yet known, amounts to 2000 killed on the field of battle and 800 wounded, of which one half is mortally wounded, and we have taken further 1500 prisoners, among which are 40 officers of different ranks and general Herman, who commanded in chief the Russian expedition, and colonel Stryk, who is dangerously wounded.

We have besides taken from the enemy, twenty cannon of different calibers. We have 300 wounded and a few killed. The reports which the general in chief will have to-morrow, will enable him, without doubt, to give a more exact account to the Executive Directory.

He praises the heroic conduct of our troops in general, but makes particular mention of Gouvion, general of brigade, and Aubree, chief of brigade. In the field of battle he appointed the former general of division, and the latter general of brigade.

The Batavian troops, which, during the action had united with the division of gen. Van Damme, behaved courageously. Lieut. general Dumoncea, who commanded the column of the centre, was wounded in the beginning of the action; his column held its position.

The right wing, under lieut. Daendels, was obliged to abandon its advanced posts. The general in chief hopes to regain them this night. The loss of this last column is not known.

In consequence of the motion made by the President, the assembly decrees, that all the French and Batavian republican columns under the orders of gen. d'Ardenne, which have conducted themselves in a praise worthy manner, have deserved well of the Batavian republic, and the same shall be made known by the Executive Directory to the said columns, in the most suitable, speedy and dutiful manner.

The above papers were also read by the second chamber and the President celebrated the victory with a suitable speech.

September 22.

In the sitting of yesterday, in the first chamber, a letter of the same date was read from the acting administration, accompanying a copy of a letter received the evening before, by the agent of war, from Major Gen. Van Boecop, dated the 20th Sept. containing the following:

I hasten myself to inform you that this moment General Daendels acquaints me in person, of his having during the present night, retaken his former position of Oud, Karspel, &c. as likewise all his lost cannon, with many additional prisoners.

At the same time was read a message from the acting administration, communicating the official accounts sent in by Gen. Brune, dated head quarters, at Alkmaar, 19th instant:

Burghers Directors,

Since the battle on the Sleperdyk, the English have remained in their entrenchments in the Zyp, without daring to venture anew, but being reinforced by 14,000 Russians, they have made a severe attack along our whole line. Their principal strength was directed against the left wing, consisting of French troops under General Van Damme, which they attacked by a respectable corps of Russian troops, supported by an English division which composed the rear. The Batavian division under General Dumonceau, which formed our centre, was also severely attacked by an Anglo-Russian corps; while a sham attack was made by the enemy on the right wing, commanded by General Daendals.

In the beginning of the battle the Russians forced their way into the villages Bergen and Schoorldam; our front then fell back to close in together, and to stand better prepared for a move, which I contemplated to make with the centre and right. The rear of the division of General Dumonceau then marched to Bergen; and part of the division under Gen. Daendals, also made a move to the left; and the battle of which the result, during a few moments, appeared uncertain, terminated completely in our favor. The enemy was driven back to their intrenchments; we made upwards of 2000 prisoners, and their loss in killed and wounded exceeds largely 3000. Twenty-five pieces of cannon, and 5 colors, among the latter, those of the regiment of Suwarrow make part of our conquest. Among the prisoners we discover Mr. Herman, General in chief of the Russian troops. The Russian General Essen, is severely wounded, and report says, the English General Knox, is slain. The battle lasted from five o'clock in the morning, till four o'clock in the evening.

Our loss, in comparison to that of the enemy, will hardly bear mentioning. Several corps of Batavian troops, among others the artillery, have done prodigies of valor. The names of the officers and soldiers who have distinguished themselves, most for the love of their country during this memorable day, you shall be furnished with.

General Daendals by his firmness and talents has considerably added to the day, and was very worthily supported by general Barbou, and the ajutant general Duraette. General Dumonceau received a wound in the breast by a buck shot. The English and Russian armies have committed the most unheard of outrages in the villages which they had surrounded during the engagement. The unhappy Batavian husbandmen and villagers, have in numbers been murdered and burnt in their own houses—many of the villages are yet burning. The British in particular have distinguished themselves above the Russians, in these acts of barbarity.

P. S. A considerable number of volunteers, from among the armed burghers, have taken a part in the engagement.

Admiralty Office, Sept. 28.

Copy of a letter from Earl St. Vincent, K. B. Admiral of the White, &c. to Evan Nepean, Esq. dated the 24th inst.

SIR,

I enclose, for the information of the lords commissioners of the Admiralty, a letter I have received from captain Digby, of his majesty's ship Alcmene, giving an account of the capture of a Spanish ship and brig laden with naval stores for the arsenal at Ferrol and a French sloop from St. Domingo.

I am, Sir, &c.

St. VINCENT.

His Majesty's Ship Alcmene, River Tagus, 30th July, 1799.

My Lord,

I have the honor to acquaint you that I stood into the harbour of Vivero, on the 18th inst. towards sunset, and running between two Spanish vessels at anchor, distant from each other near two cables length, I sent Lieutenants Warren and Oliver with parties armed to board them and make out, which service they executed in a spirited and masterly manner. On their appearance under sail, two forts and a detached gun opened round us, which I returned: the heavy smoke of my guns, and day closing prevented the enemy directing theirs to effect.

One of the prizes named La Felicidad, a ship between seven and eight hundred tons, pierced for twenty two guns, is loaded with hemp, a few lower masts, and ship timber; the other named El Bisarro, a brig near four hundred tons, with ship timber and iron, both bound to the arsenal and Ferrol.

I am obliged to Mr. Hammond, commanding Phœnix privateer lugger of Jersey, for the intelligence: He followed in and gave every assistance to the prizes. On the 25th inst. I sent him in chace, and he captured a French sloop from St. Domingo, bound to Bourdeaux.

I have the honor to be, &c.

H. DIGBY.

AT a Court of Common Pleas held at Union Town, for the county of Fayette, the fourth Monday of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety nine, before the Judges of the same court, on the petition of John Wilson, praying that the act of Assembly, providing that the person of a debtor shall not be liable to imprisonment for debt after delivering up his estate for the use of his creditors, may be extended to him. The Court appoint the first day of next term, to hear the petitioner and his creditors, and order that he give his creditors public notice hereof, in Fenno's Philadelphia paper, and in Yundt and Brown's Baltimore paper, for one week, ending at least four weeks before the day of hearing; and that he also give to John Gillespie and Jacob Everhart personal notice in writing, to be served on them, at least fifteen days previous to the hearing. At September term, this order was continued to the first day of December term.

By the Court,

EPHRAIM DOUGLASS,

Prothonotary.

At a meeting of the Committee appointed by the Board of Guardians of the Poor for the City and Liberties of Philadelphia, on the 25th day of the 9th Month, 1799, to assist in granting relief to indigent and necessitous inhabitants of the said City and Liberties, held at the Court House the 16th day of the 11th month, 1799—

JOHN JAMES, in the Chair,

THOMAS HARRISON, Secretary.

Resolved, That as the duties of this Committee have now become unnecessary in consequence of the restoration of health and return of the citizens to their homes, the Committee deem it proper to state for the information of their fellow-citizens and the Board of Guardians, the number of poor families relieved, together with the cost of that relief.

From the accounts examined and passed, and for which orders were drawn on Luke W. Morris, Treasurer to the Committee, it appears, that

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.

ON Thursday, 22d October, deserted from the encampment, near Bristol, Pennsylvania, HENRY WEST, an enlisted Musician, belonging to the company of Captain Matthew Henderson tenth regiment of United States Infantry, 26 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches high, [illegible] eyes, fair complexion, born in the county of [illegible] Ireland, he is a little stoop shouldered and speaks in a low tone of voice.

ALSO,

Deserted from the company of captain Brady, on Saturday, 26th October, four privates, JOHN DENNIS, aged 34, 5 feet 8 inches high, born in New York, grey eyes, brown hair, brown complexion, was much addicted to liquor, and when intoxicated very talkative. SOLOMON SMITH, aged 37, 5 feet 7 inches high, born in New-York, grey eyes, brown hair, fair complexion, a notorious offender, this being his third desertion. SIMEON DUN, aged 21 years, and 6 months, 5 feet 5 inches high, born in New-Jersey, grey eyes, fair hair, brown complexion.

CHARLES Mc. LEY, aged 26, 5 feet 6 inches high, born in Ireland, grey eyes, black hair, dark complexion—he is supposed to be in Norristown, or its neighbourhood—it is not known what clothing they had when they deserted; but the probability is that they have changed their military habits.

Whoever shall take up the above deserters and lodge them in any jail so that their officers may get them again, or shall deliver them to the subscriber at his quarters in Filbert, between Ninth and Tenth streets, shall receive the above reward and for either of them a proportionate reward of ten dollars and all reasonable expences.

Copy of a letter to the Minister of the United States at Madrid, from the acting Minister of State of his Catholic Majesty.

SIR,

BY order of the King, my maſter, I tranſmit to you for the information of your court, a copy of the anſwer of this government to the ſtrange manifeſto of his Imperial Majeſty the Emperor of Ruſſia, in which he has declared War againſt the former power. In the one as well as in the other are expreſſed the reſpective political ſentiments entertained by both crowns; and his Catholic Majeſty does not doubt, from the impartiality of the United States of America, that they will recognize in that of Madrid the ſpirit of juſtice and moderation diſplayed in his reply.

I offer myſelf, on this account, to your diſpoſal, &c.

MARIANO LUIS DE URQUIJO.

Mr. David Humphreys.

St. Ildefonſo, 9th Sept. 1799, &c.

SPANISH DECLARATION.

The religious ſcrupulouſneſs, with which I have endeavored, and ſhall endeavor, to maintain the alliance I have contracted with the French Republic, and the ties of friendſhip and good intelligence, which happily ſubſiſt between the two countries, and which are cemented by the evident analogy of their mutual political intereſts, have excited the jealouſy of ſome powers, particularly ſince the formation of the new coalition, whoſe object, rather than the apparent and chimerical one of re-eſtabliſhing order, is to diſturb it, by tyrannizing over the nations, who do not yield themſelves up to their ambitious views. Among theſe, the conduct of Ruſſia has been particularly marked towards me, the Emperor of which, not content with arrogating to himſelf claims, which in no wiſe belong to him, and with manifeſting in them his objects, becauſe, perhaps, he did not find the condeſcention he expected, on my part, has juſt iſſued the decree, declaratory of war, whoſe publication alone will ſuffice to evince its entire want of juſtice. Being literately tranſlated, it runs thus:

"We, Paul the firſt, by the grace of God, Emperor and Autoerat of all the Ruſſias, &c. &c. &c. make known to all our faithful ſubjects. We, and our allies have reſolved to deſtroy the anarchical and illegitimate government, which now prevails in France, and, conſequently, to direct againſt it all our forces. God has bleſſed our arms, and has hitherto crowned all our undertakings, with happineſs and victory.

"Among the ſmall number of European powers, who have apparently delivered themſelves up to it, but who, in reality, are fearful of the vengeance of that government, abandoned of God, and which is in its laſt agonies, Spain has manifeſted more than all the reſt her fear, or her ſubmiſſion to France, not indeed by efficient ſuccors, but by preparations for that end. In vain have we employed every means to make this power take the true path of honor and glory, and purſue it in conjunction with us, ſhe has remained obſtinate in the meaſures, and errors, which are pernicious to her: by means of which, we were finally obliged to ſignify to her our indignation, by ordering her Chargé d'Affaires to depart from our States: but knowing now that our own has been likewiſe forced to withdraw from the dominions of the King of Spain, within a fixed time, we conſider this abſolutely as an offence to our Majeſty, and declare War againſt her, by the preſent Proclamation:—Wherefore, we order the ſequeſtration and confiſcation of all the Spaniſh merchant veſſels, within our ports, and that the order be ſent to all the commandants of our forces by land and ſea, in order that they may act offenſively, every where, againſt the ſubjects of the King of Spain. Given at Peterſhof, the 15th of July, in the year 1799, of the birth of Chriſt, and in the third of our reign.—Signed in the original, with the proper hand of his Imperial Majeſty Paul."

I have ſeen this declaration, without ſurpriſe, becauſe the conduct obſerved towards my Chargé d'Affaires, and other proceedings, no leſs ſtrange of that ſovereign, for ſome time paſt, announced that this criſis would happen. Therefore, in having ordered the Chargé of Ruſſia to depart from my court and ſtates, reſentment had a much leſs ſhare, than the imperious conſiderations of my dignity. Agreeably to theſe principles, I am very far from wiſhing to make the incoherencies of the Ruſſian manifeſto, which are very evident at the firſt ſight, and what is therein contained of a nature, offenſive to me, and to all the powers of Europe. And as I know the nature of the influence, which England holds over the preſent Czar, I ſhould think myſelf humiliated, were I to anſwer to that manifeſto, not being bound to render an account of my political connections to any one, but the Almighty, with whoſe aſſiſtance, I hope to repel every unjuſt aggreſſion, which preſumption, and a ſyſtem of unfounded combinations may attempt againſt me, and againſt my ſubjects, for whoſe protection and ſecurity I have taken, and am now taking the moſt efficacious meaſures; and in giving them notice of this declaration of War, I authorize them to act with hoſtility againſt Ruſſia, its poſſeſſions, and inhabitants.

Signed with the royal hand.

A true copy,

(Signed) URQUIJO.

St. Ildefonſo, 9th Sept. 1799.

Extract of a Letter from Holland, dated 4th October, 1799.

"You will before this reaches you, have heard that the Britiſh and Ruſſians have landed in this country—They captured our fleet without oppoſition, and are in poſſeſſion of the Helder, the naval arſenal and all the iſlands in the Zuyder Zee. On the 19th paſt, they received a check, owing to the impetuoſity of the Ruſſian Troops, and had our general availed himſelf timely of their confuſion, the day would have proved fatal to the invaders. The Britiſh were obliged to change their poſition, which ſaved the Ruſſians from being entirely cut off. We have loſt a great number of men, full 3000 priſoners, and near as many killed and wounded, our artillery and ammunition waggons. Our directory act wiſely in claiming the victory, and do every thing poſſible to maintain peace, energy and courage of the republic; but I am ſorry to ſee in order to vilify their enemies they exaggerate their accounts, and alledge every horror poſſible to their enemies, but the reports of thoſe reſiding in thoſe parts, ſome of whom I have ſeen, are very different and acknowledge they have received very little injury conſidering the immenſe army, and ſpeak highly of the commanders. I am of opinion that had our leaders defended the Helder as they ought, the Britiſh army muſt have returned home. From the French troops pouring in, I foreſee ruin and deſolation to my poor country. Since the 19th we have had continued rainy weather, and nothing has paſſed of any conſequence. The Britiſh are procuring more troops—We are in the greateſt confuſion poſſible, and a total want of confidence. I underſtand from thoſe in trade, that all commerce is at a ſtand—We cannot receive any thing from either Hamburg, Bremen, or Embden, as the Britiſh are maſters of the Zuyder Zee.

The Honorable GEORGE THATCHER, M. C. arrived in town yeſterday.

The city is already thronged with Democratic members, who being always alert, wherever miſchief is to be done, are no doubt contemplating a bold puſh for a ſpeaker of that kidney.

Mr. John Neal, Supercargo of ſhip Fortitude, P. Kearny, maſter, is arrived in this city and confirms the melancholy account as ſtated in our paper a few days paſt. This gentleman conceives it a duty incumbent on him thus publicly to expreſs his gratitude to Sir Thomas Williams, Kt. and his officers, for the kindneſs and urbanity ſhewn to him and the other other people whilſt on board his Britannic Majeſty's frigate Endymion. The particular attention of Sir Thomas to them could only be excelled by the goodneſs of his diſpoſition. Mr. Neal reports having ſpoke the following veſſels.

Oct. 1ſt, 1799, the ſhip Riſing States, capt. ——, of Providence, from Newport in lat. 18, N. and long. 27, 7, W. out 31 days, bound round Cape Horn.

Oct. 25th, the brig Molly, of Philadelphia, capt. Huggins, in lat. 35, 30, N. and long. 35, 25, W. bound up the Rio de la Plata.

At about half paſt two, yeſterday afternoon, was beautifully launched the Frigate Philadelphia, of 44 guns, built by the ſubſcriptions of the merchants of this city, under the direction of Meſſ. Samuel Humphreys and Nathaniel Hutton.

May ſhe, while the elegance of her conſtruction reflects credit no leſs upon the architect, than on the liberality and patriotiſm of the city, contribute largely, under a gallant commander, to break thoſe Liliputian ties in which the craft and ſubtlety of the gallic Hydra, has enmeſhed our Infant Hercules.

The Auguſta and Richmond brigs fired a Governmental ſalute on the occaſion, and an immenſe mob of ſpectators gave repeated huzzas.

Benjamin Ruſſell pettiſhly ſays, "it it a falsbood that the Frigate United States is going to cruize againſt the French republic." Meanwhile there can be little doubt of the fact, that that veſſel, and all the reſt of our navy, will continue to be employed to that purpoſe (for which they were built) until a peace takes place; and he muſt be an egregious aſs who imagines otherwiſe. It is a pleaſant ſatire on the character of that government of murderers, that while we are offering our humiliation to them, to preſerve a diſgraceful cowardly peace, we find it politic to place no confidence in their faith, but to keep as much as poſſible à la distance; and yet this latter policy muſt meet the applauſe of all diſcerning men.

The funeral obſequies of the late Mr. CLIFTON, were attended, on Wedneſday afternoon, by a very numerous concourſe of the moſt reſpectable characters, we ever remember to have ſeen aſſembled in this city. Deep ſorrow ſat on every countenance. Such diſtinction ſhewn to ſuch merits as thoſe of the deceaſed, reflects no leſs honor on the ſenſibility and diſcernment which produced it, than on the memory of its object.

BALTIMORE, November 27, '99.

Mr. J. W. FENNO,

SIR,

You will oblige me by informing your readers, that the Jemima and Fanny, which veſſel was releaſed after having been carried into a French port, is the property of W. B. Magruder, and not of

S. SMITH.

NEW-YORK, November 28.

Captain Thomas Smith, late of the ſhip Fortitude, of this port, came paſſenger in the ſloop Providence, capt. Lewis, arrived yeſterday in 16 days from St. Kitts gives us the following information:—That on the 7th of Auguſt laſt, being a few miles weſt of Madeira, the Fortitude was captured by the Volney French privateer, and carried to the iſland of Palena, together with the brig Sukey Smith, Capt. Harris, of Charleſton, where both veſſels and cargo were condemned on the 6th of September. Capt. Smith at Teneriffe, took paſſage in the brig Little Benjamin, capt. Cook, for Charleſton; on the 6th Oct. in lat. 23, 30, and near the parallel of Antigua, the Little Benjamin was captured by the Ocean privateer, capt. Troole, of Guadaloupe, a fine Bermudian built brig, pierced for 18 guns, but had only ten long nines, ſixes and fours, and a crew of 135 men, when ſhe left port.—Capt. Smith further informs, that he was detained on board the privateer nearly a month, cruizing from 23 to 26 degrees north lat. and about 61 degrees weſt long. On the 29th October, the privateer was captured by the United States ſhip Delaware, capt. Baker, after a chace of above 6 hours. The privateer having hove 8 of her heavieſt guns overboard, and cleared her decks of boats, ſpars, &c. and carried away her foremaſt and main-topmaſt. On the 3d inſt. the Delaware and her prize arrived at St. Kitts. By this capture about 30 Americans were relieved from a diſagreeable ſituation, although their treatment was liberal to both officers and ſeamen, faring in common with themſelves.

The privateer had been cruiſing about 35 days, and had captured the following American veſſels:

Sloop New-York Packet, Carpenter from Edenton to the Weſt-Indies.

Brig Little Benjamin, Cook, from Teneriffe to Charleſton.

Schr. Diana, Dyer, from Portland to the Weſt-Indies.

Schr. Hiram, Gardner, from Cheſter, (Mary.) to Barbadoes.

A COMPENDIOUS SYSTEM

Of Practical Surveying and dividing of land; briefly comprized under the following heads, viz.

TWENTY-THREE Geometrical Definitions, eleven Geometrical Positions, exhibiting to view the properties and dependencies of triangles; followed by problems and examples preparatory to Trigonometry, heights and distances. Then fifteen problems and examples neceſſarily previous to calculating a Survey ſucceeded by ſeven ſurveys, the area of the four firſt is found geometrically, and of the whole number by difference of latitude and departure, ſhewing how to take an inacceſſible boundary, find the bearing and diſtance of the cloſing line without running it, alſo the diſtances to an inacceſſible corner from the two adjacent corners, followed by examples of offſets on to winding ſtreams of water, ſhewing how to aſcertain the area without the trouble of meaſuring the windings with chains and inſtruments—a crooked water courſe ſtraitened, and a quantity of land on each ſide found by theſe offſets.

Ten examples of dividing land, with many ſub-diviſions, leading into the moſt critical circumſtances that can occur in practice; an example of Interſections, and an example ſhewing how the bearings of a field may be truly taken where the needle is attracted, altho' the attraction may vary in quantity and denomination at every ſtation; examples ſhewing the method of meaſuring by the chain only. All the rules are clear and explicit. This work contains the tables of difference of latitude and departure and of logarithms.

Orders ſent to Joſeph and James Cruckſhank, Bookſellers, No. 8-, High-ſtreet, Philadelphia, Bonſall and Niles, 173, Market Street, Baltimore, or the Subſcriber in Wilmington (Del.) will be duly attended to.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

March 11th, 1799.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, Purſuant to the act of Congreſs paſſed on the 1ſt day of June, one thouſand, ſeven hundred and ninety ſix, entitled "an act regulating the grants of land appropriated for military ſervices, and for the ſociety of United Brethren for propagating the goſpel among the Heathen;" and the act ſupplementary to the ſaid recited act paſſed on the ſecond day of March, one thouſand ſeven hundred and ninety nine——to wit:

I.

THAT the tract of Land herein after deſcribed, namely, "beginning at the North Weſt corner of the ſeven ranges of townſhips, and running thence fifty miles due ſouth, along the weſtern boundary of the ſaid ranges;—thence due Weſt to the Main Branch of the Scioto river; thence up the Main Branch of the ſaid river to the place where the Indian boundary line croſſes the ſame;—thence along the ſaid boundary line to the Tuſcaroras branch of the Muſkingum river at the croſſing place above Fort Lawrence; thence down the ſaid river, to the point where a line run due weſt from the place of beginning, will interſect the ſaid river; thence along the line ſo run to the place of beginning;" has been divided into townſhips of five miles ſquare, and fractional parts of townſhips; and that plats and ſurveys of the ſaid townſhips and fractional parts of townſhips are depoſited in the offices of the Regiſter of the Treaſury and Surveyor General, for the inſpection of all perſons concerned.

II.

The holders of ſuch warrants as have been or ſhall be granted for military ſervices performed during the late war, are required to preſent the ſame to the Regiſter of the Treaſury, at ſome time prior to the twelfth day of February in the year, one thouſand eight hundred, for the purpoſe of being regiſtered; No regiſtry will however be made of any leſs quantity than a quarter townſhip, or four thouſand acres.

III.

The priority of location of the warrants which may be preſented and regiſtered in manner aforeſaid, prior to the 12th day of February in the year one thouſand eight hundred, will immediately after the ſaid day, be determined by lot, in the mode dreſcribed by the act firſt recited.

IV.

The holders of regiſtered warrants, ſhall on Monday the 17th day of February, in the year 1800, in the order of which the priority of location ſhall be determined by lot as aforeſaid, perſonally, or by their agents, deſignate in writing at the office of the Regiſter of the Treaſury, the particular quarter townſhips elected by them reſpectively, and ſuch of the ſaid holders as ſhall not deſignate their locations on the ſaid day, ſhall be poſtponed in locating ſuch warrants to all other holders of regiſtered warrants.

V.

The holders of warrants for military ſervices ſufficient to cover one or more quarter townſhips or tracts of four thouſand acres each; ſhall, at any time after Monday the 17th day of February, 1800 and prior to the firſt day of January, 1802, be allowed to regiſter the ſaid warrants in manner aforeſaid, and forthwith to make locations therefor on any tract or tracts of land not before located.

VI.

All warrants or claims for lands on account of military ſervices, which ſhall not be regiſtered and located before the firſt day of January, 1802, are by the ſupplementary act of Congreſs herein before recited, paſſed on the ſecond day of March, 1799, declared to be forever barred.

Given under my hand at Philadelphia, the day and year above mentioned.

TERMS

Of Richard Folwell, in Philadelphia,

FOR SUBSCRIBING TO THE

JOURNALS OF CONGRESS,

FROM THE COMMENCEMENT

Of the American War, in 1774, to the present time,

INCLUDING

The Reports of Heads of Departments, of Committees, and other Official and Private Papers of that Body, now first permitted to be made public.

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat tipe, in large octavo.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages, neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in ſize, paper, and binding, will be obſerved throughout the work; ſo that, while the ſubſcribers become poſſeſſed of a valuable record, an ornament may be added to their libraries.

The price to ſubſcribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound, but, as the publiſher does not intend to print manmore than the number ſubſcribed for, a conſiderable riſe on the price may be expected to non-ſubſcribers.

Each volume will contain about one third leſs of letter-preſs than the original edition; but, as the publiſher is not yet enabled to determine the extent of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot aſcertain the number of volumes which will compriſe the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subſcribers will have it at their option, either to ſubſcribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the preſent time, or to thoſe only of the Old Congreſs prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are loſt in darkneſs and obſcurity, owing to a careleſsneſs, in the ſucceeding generation, to preſerve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in theſe rude ages, being called off from their domeſtic concerns, to engage in wars and conqueſt. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been tranſmitted to our days? Time, that deſtroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almoſt inеſtimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their aſſiſtance in tranſmitting to poſterity the labours of their anceſtors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will ſhow the ſupport it has already acquired:

"Philadelphia, June 15, 1798.

We, therefore, reſpectfully ſolicit, as the publication is neceſſary to be diſſeminated among public bodies, that Congreſs will, in their wiſdom render him ſuch additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained from private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, ſo that your Memorialiſts may be enabled to purchaſe copies of that record for themſelves.

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the ſhort and pleaſant road of Buſſleton, Newtown, Scotch Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excelleuce of this road, the populouſneſs of the country through which it paſſes, with ſundry other advantages, which render it ſo far preferable to the Old Road through Briſtol, Brunſwick, &c. long ago ſuggeſted the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-Fare from Philadelphia to New-York. During the preſent year, a minute ſurvey of it has been taken, and its ſuperiority over the Old Road, both in winter and ſummer, has been clearly aſcertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the croſſing is performed with great ſafety and in leſs than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is ſeveral miles ſhorter than the old road, but this is amongſt the leaſt of its advantages, becauſe daily experience proves to us, that diſpatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodneſs of the road and the levelneſs of the country, and, in theſe reſpects, the New Road is, beyond all compariſon, the beſt. It preſents none of thoſe rocky hills, which render the Old Road ſo fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The ſoil, too, for the greater part, is ſuch as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little duſt in ſummer, which circumſtance, added to the beauty of the country, and a conſiderable proportion of ſhade, muſt always render travelling in the latter ſeaſon peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure ſtarts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, oppoſite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth ſtreet. It goes through Frankford to Buſtleton, where it ſtops to Breakfaſt; from Buſtletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny-town through Hopewell, Millſtone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it ſtops at Springfield to breakfaſt, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it ſtarts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For ſeats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee houſe, to A. Mathieu, corner of Naſſau and John ſtreets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich ſtreet, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad ſtreet.

Fare for paſſengers, Five Dollars.
Way paſſengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each paſſenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a paſſenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With reſpect to packages ſent on without paſſengers, the proprietors preſume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of ſtages, they think muſt meet with general approbation. They pledge themſelves to make good every package on the following conditions. The perſon who delivers the package at the office ſhall ſee it entered in the ſtage-book, for which entry he ſhall pay 6 cents; he will then ſtate the value of the package, and pay (excluſive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as inſurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for inſtance, if he eſtimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent. and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar inſurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few perſons it is preſumed, will diſlike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himſelf of this ſecurity or not. But the proprietors think it right to ſtate very explicitly, that they will be reſponſible for the ſafe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an inſurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the diſtribution of the route, the greateſt care has bren taken to fix on ſuch places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the paſſengers at the moſt reaſonable rates. The ſtages are well equipped furniſhed with fleet and ſteady horſes, and committed to the care of intelligent ſober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themſelves live at the different towns and villages where the ſtages will ſtop, ſo that the conduct of the perſons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care alſo to ſee that the paſſengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no ſort of chicanery or inſolence is practiſed upon them; in ſhort, they have ſpared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very beſt line of ſtages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every paſſenger has found the road to ſurpaſs very far all that has been ſaid of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift-Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviou of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns ſpoken of with the higheſt ſatisfaction.
